

VIRTUAL CONFERENCE • SEPTEMBER 13 - 17 • ONLINE • WORLDWIDE

Online Conference

No hassle, costs, or carbon emissions from traveling. Attend the entire conference safely from home.

Five Days

Five days packed with prerecorded sessions and live events

Meetup and Network

Interact with your peers during networking events.
#LandCommons

Aim & Scope

This conference aims to bring together scholars and practitioners on land as a commons. We will cover traditional land commons topics such as pastoralism, governance of land, land degradation, land rights and conflicts as well as how to conceptualize and analyze the multi-scalar nature of commons such as biodiversity, agrobiodiversity, ecosystem services/nature's contributions to people (NCP), among others. The week will be shared with a second virtual conference on forests, given the interconnection of the two topics.

Submission Process

We welcome different kinds of contributions:

- Live Webinar Panels
- Sessions with Talks (Pre-Recorded)
- Individual Talks (Pre-Recorded)

Call for Abstracts

Steering Committee

Chair

Michael Schoon, Arizona State University, USA

Steering Committee

Catherine M. Tucker, University of Florida, USA

Bram Büscher, Wageningen University, The Netherlands

George T. Mudimu, University of Western Cape, South Africa

Ariane de Bremond, Global Land Programme, Switzerland

Farai Mtero, University of Western Cape, South Africa

Gabriela Macedo, University of Campinas, Brazil

Tracks

- Food Systems, Land Use and Land Use Change
- Biodiversity Conservation, Ecosystem Services and Nature's Contributions to People
- Land Degradation
- Land Governance, Institutions, Rights and Conflicts
- Pastoralism
- Land, Politics, Territory, and Reclaiming the Commons

Important Dates

Abstract Deadline:
July 1, 2021

Submit your Abstract

Acceptance Notification:
August 1, 2021

Deadline for pre-recorded video submission:
September 3, 2021

Further Information

<https://2021land.iasc-commons.org/>

Contact Us

General questions & content

Michael Schoon michael.schoon@asu.edu

Inquiries regarding logistics

Marco Janssen marco.janssen@asu.edu